Dear Dr. Lakin,

The Office of Laboratory Animal Welfare (OLAW) acknowledges receipt of your March 12, 2019 letter reporting an instance of noncompliance with the PHS Policy on Humane Care and Use of Laboratory Animals at the University of Colorado- Denver. According to the information provided, OLAW understands that mice older than 21 days were subjected to tail snips using analgesia. While this is acceptable under institutional policy, it was not listed on the protocol under which it was performed.

The corrective action consisted of counseling the laboratory staff to conduct animal activities only as described in the approved protocol.

Based on its assessment of this explanation, OLAW understands that measures have been implemented to prevent recurrence of this problem. OLAW concurs with the actions taken by the institution to comply with the PHS Policy.

Sincerely,

Dear Dr. Morse;

The Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee (IACUC) at the University of Colorado Denver | Anschutz Medical Campus received a report of an animal welfare incident; specifically the PI self-reported that mice had tail snips with anesthesia performed on animals older than 21 days and, although this is within policy, it was done on the wrong protocol. The PI does have tail snips with anesthesia on another approved protocol.

At a convened meeting of a quorum of the IACUC, a majority of the quorum present determined that the laboratory staff be counselled on the importance of following the correct protocol. This has been completed. The Committee determined further that the Office of Laboratory Animal Welfare (OLAW) be informed of this incident. (NIH Grant # AI-15614)

Please let me know if you require further information.

Sincerely,
