

Veterinary exemption of social housing for non-human primates since they are incompatible and fight when housed together.