Attachment A

I. Program Changes

f. In March 2018, LSU submitted the mandatory five year renewal of the PHS Animal Welfare Assurance. OLAW responded indicating our Occupational Health and Safety Program (OHSP) could not allow persons who would be exposed to no or minimal risk to "opt out" of the program. OLAW stated that a required component of the OHSP must include a collection of health history and evaluation by a medical professional for all individuals with relevant animal contact as part of the risk assessment process.

Based on this requirement, the LSU OHSP was expanded to include mandatory participation by all persons working with research or teaching animals. To participate in the OHSP, each person who will have contact with animals is required to complete a confidential health questionnaire. The questionnaire is submitted directly to the OH&S physician for review. A copy of the revised Standard Operating Procedure (SOP) is attached. OLAW approved our institution's Animal Welfare Assurance on October 15, 2019, which included the new OHSP program.
