

Stanford University
Registration #93-R-0004
Justification for the "E" Category Procedures

Justification for the "E" Category Procedures

Species: Rabbits Number of Animals Used in the Study: 27

One investigator was granted Stanford IACUC approval to conduct steroid injection to create an orthopedic condition. Animals experience weight loss of unknown cause and have been classified as "E" while this is evaluated, but receive dietary supplements and medical care under close veterinary management to alleviate potential discomfort.